Lions held at the Santa Ana

"SCARFACE AL" GIVEN YEAR IN EASTERN JAIL

Chicago Gangland Leader
Sentenced for Carrying Concealed Weapon

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—(UP)—
"Scarface Al" Capone, who carries a gun because "I'm on the mark you know—marked for death," was sentenced today to serve one year in the county prison
because he brought his revolver to Philadelphia.

The notorious Chicago gangland
leader and his bodyguard, Frank Cline, pleaded guilty to the charge
of carrying concealed deadly weapons, after which both Capone and Cline received sentences of a year's imprisonment.

Judge John E. Walsh sentenced
the men in the criminal division of municipal court.

The plea was taken after the men
conferred with their attorneys, Bernard L. Lemisch and Cornelius Hag-gerity Jr. Previously they had been advised to "stand mute" and Judge Walsh directed a "not guilty" plea
be inscribed upon the official court records.

Indictment and sentencing of the men occurred about 13 hours after their arrest here.

Their prison sentence was the maximum that could be imposed under Pennsylvania statutes for this offense. Judge Walsh also could have fined them $500 each.

SOUTHERN STATES MENACED BY WORST FLOOD IN TWO SEASONS

W. B. WILLIAMS IS PRESIDENT OF F. & M. BANK

Chosen Head of Institution
Following Resignation
of A. J. Crookshank

WITH A VIEW to a division of presidential duties, and in line with a plan of promotions instituted by the First National bank, A. J. Crookshank yesterday resigned as president of the Farmers & Merchants Savings
Bank and, at Crookshank's request, W. B. Williams was elected in his place to head the savings bank.

The change at the Farmers &
Merchants Savings bank in no way affects the personnel of officers of the First National bank,
the stockholders of which own the Farmers & Merchants bank. At the First National, Crookshank
remains as president and Williams
as vice president and cashier.

Neither is the arrangement of officials on active duty at the Farmers & Merchants in any way changed, with W. B. Tedford as vice president and Alex. Brown-ridge as cashier.
"I am asking that this change
be made," said Crookshank at the meeting of the savings bank directors yesterday afternoon, "in order that I may be relieved of some of my banking duties and
as a recognition of the services
rendered the two banks by Mr.
Williams."

ings bank is the second largest
bank in Orange county, first position being held by the First National, the officers, directors and

Debentures To Be Killed By Both Houses

Strategic Plan for Handling
Farm and Tariff Problem Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON, May 17.—
(UP)—After a brief but sharp debate, the House today adopted the Snell rule sending the Senate's Debenture farm relief
bill to conference, and thereby avoiding the threatened fight between the two houses over
the constitutionality of the legislation.
The vote sending the Farm
bill to conference was 249 to 119. Republicans voted almost solidly for the resolution and gained a few Democratic supporters. Previous to the vote every member was notified by telephone and a formal printed notice to be in the Chamber at noon to vote on the resolution.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—
(UP)—A strategic plan for handling the difficult farm and tariff problems, which have been causing such a legislative uproar,
was entered upon today by administration leaders in the House.
They are confident the plan will meet with success.

It calls for killing the debenture
clause of the Farm bill in a conference of committees representing the house and senate, and final adoption of the original bill creating the $500,000,000 revolving fund
to be administered by a federal farm board for promotion of orderly marketing.

The first move toward that end
was taken when the house took up
a special rule for the bill, limiting debate to one hour. All of the time would be allotted to Chairman Snell
of the rules committee who would parcel it out as he saw fit. The rule would waive the constitutional question of whether the senate was within its rights in adopting the debenture clause. It says "In view of the present legislative situation
and the desire of the house to pass
speedily legislation affording relief
to agriculture," it will set aside the constitutional argument and send the bill to conference. The rule may

THREE INJURED IN PLANT EXPLOSION

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 17.—
(UP)—A gunpowder explosion at the Winchester Repeating Arms
company plant here today injured
three men, one perhaps fatally.

Patrick Doherty was taken to New Haven hospital, where his condition was reported "poor"
shortly after he was admitted.
Fred Hoeger and John Cugan were in the plant emergency hospital
with less serious injuries.

All of the injured were employed in the powder mixing department of the plant. The small wooden structure in which they were working was wrecked.

Stock Exchange To Place Tickers In
San Diego And S. F.

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—(UP)—
A ticker system, carrying quotations of the Los Angeles Stock exchange, will be installed in San Diego, Oakland and San Francisco within the next two months,
Carl P. Miller, secretary and manager of the exchange announced
today.
In addition, negotiations are being concluded for further extension of the ticker system to include Bakersfield, Fresno, and Santa Barbara. This latter group will be connected immediately after installation of the wire in the bay cities, it was said.
Although only stock exchange
tickers are to be extended to San Diego, arrangements have been made to provide Oakland and San Francisco with both exchange and cure quotations, the announcement said.

DEATH TOLL IN CLINIC BLAST MOUNTS TO 127

Fate of Score of Others Is Still Hanging In Balance Late Today

CLEVELAND, May 17.—(UP)—
The threat of death hung over a score of persons today as funeral plans were made for the 127 whose lives were snuffed out
by poison gas and fire in the Cleveland clinic disaster.
Patients, doctors, nurses—all those still alive who were in the clinic Wednesday when three explosions starting in the X-ray room sent yellowish nitrogen dioxide fumes swirling through the building—were marked on the danger list. They, with firemen, police and volunteers who braved the blazing structure, were ordered to report for medical treatment to drive gas poison from their lungs and blood corpuscles.

The vast destruction of human life in an institution erected to preserve life was believed probably due to two steam fitters' blunders—each ordinarily excusable.

One of the steam fitters, a young man named Buffery Boggs, was held in technical custody after he told his story to Coroner A. J.
Pearse, police and county officials.

He said he had been called to repair a leaking steam pipe in the

Streams Break Over Dykes In Many Sections

Government Engineers and Guardsmen Ordered Out
To Render Aid

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 17.—
(UP)—Government and district
engineers, assisted by national guardsmen and hundreds of volunteer workers, moved in full force
today to combat the most serious
flood menace in this section in two years.
Arkansas streams had broken
over dykes in at least three places
and presented a serious threat in half a dozen others. The Mississippi river, swollen to the highest point of the year by recent rains,
washed dangerously near levee tops
in southeast Missouri, northeast
Arkansas and western Kentucky.

Engineers believed that if main levees could be held until Monday
the greatest danger would pass on Arkansas streams and on the Mississippi above Memphis. Below
Memphis to Vicksburg the crest
will present a serious threat next week.

Company I of the Tennessee national guard was ordered to the scene of a threatened break below
Hickman, Ky., last night. The Guardsmen, under the command of Capt. Mike Bright and Lieut. Wallace Nolen, entrained today from Union City, Tenn.
The most serious situation today
prevailed on the Arkansas river

School Youth In Hospital After 'Hazing'

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—
(UP)—Victim of a high school "hazing," Leon Side-
bottom, 16, was in Osteopathic hospital today, with an amputated finger and other injuries received in a three-story fall.
Sidebottom fell from a
third story ledge when he attempted to escape from upperclassmen who resented
his wearing corduroy trousers to school. Corduroy trousers are supposed to be the exclusive prerogative of seniors, Principal E. W.
Oliver explained.
Nurses today said Side-
bottom was rapidly recovering from his injuries.

LYMAN M. KING IS SLATED FOR STATE OFFICE

Redlands Publisher Will Be Named Finance Director

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—(UP)— Alexander R. Heron, director of the state department of finance
expects soon to hand in his resignation to Governor Young and re-enter private business, it was reliably learned by the United Press
today.
Lyman M. King, Redlands publisher and chief of the state division of service and supply, will be appointed to fill the vacancy.
It also became known. The posi-

GRAVE PERIL AVOIDED BY COMMANDER

Leviathan of Air Brought Safely Down at Toulon.
France, After Wild Trip

ALL ENGINES ARE GONE

Hugo Eckener Pilots Huge
Airship Through Gales
And Disaster Averted

TOULON, France, May 17.—
(UP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, saved from grave peril by
the magnificent maneuvering of her commander, was brought safely to the ground with French troops aid
at the Gueze air field near here and taken into the hangar at 8:55 p. m.
The great Zeppelin, her engines
disabled, had drifted helplessly over southeastern France, driven by a storm. After two unsuccessful attempts to land, Dr. Hugo Eckener allowed the dirigible to drift toward Toulon and maneuvered her over the field.

A large ground force was waiting and seized the trailing ropes of the dirigible. The Zeppelin had cleared the storm area when she arrived here and there was no wind
to endanger her. Otherwise the ship might have been blown into the Mediterranean.

The ground crew was able to hold the Zeppelin, but could not maneuver her until a body of troops was sent from Toulon.

The 18 passengers, including Mrs.
Mary Pierce of New York and the Zeppelin's crew of 41, were safe
after nearly 24 hours of dramatic battling with the elements that began when the Zeppelin's engines
started to fail as she neared Gibralter on her transatlantic voyage.

With two engines out, the Zeppelin retraced her course and headed up the Rhone valley for her home port at Friedrichshafen.
The third engine failed today and in the face of a northwest storm
the dirigible could not make progress.

Her plight stirred France to instant action and help was mobilized on a large scale at strategic points in the southeast.

French planes from Lyons and Aligion flew around the Zeppelin
as she drifted to the southeast,
seeking some scheme of helping
her to land, but they were helpless. During the afternoon and early evening the Zeppelin's motors were idle except only occasionally when Eckener would start

YOUNG ASKED TO VETO COURT BILL

FRESNO, May 17.—(UP)—Governor Young in Sacramento was requested by a telegraphed resolution of the Fresno County bar association last night to veto the compromise bill that would establish an appellate court of four months each at Fresno, San Bernardino and San Diego. The bar association vote was 34 for and 20
against the resolution.
The resolution characterized the proposed traveling court as "impracticable, inconvenient, illogical,
expensive and wholly unsatisfactory."
It also advocated laying plans
now for passage in the next legislature of the original Lermal bill giving the San Joaquin valley a permanent appellate court in Fresno.

'Uneasy Lies The Head That Wears The Crown,' So Leon I, Hobo King, Halts Here To Eat---And Abdicate

With a smile on his face and a jest on his lips despite the gravity of the occasion, J. Leon Lazarowitz, king of the hoboes of the United States, formally abdicated his throne in Santa Ana today. As the mantle of royalty slipped from his youthful shoulders, King Leon
in his last official command, appointed as his successor the world
renowned and universally loved Denver Mike, of whose whereabouts
the erstwhile monarch confessed he was in happy ignorance.

But Denver Mike, wherever he is, felt the mantle on his shoulders
today and the scepter in the grasp of his toil worn fingers, while the late king rambled merrily on his way to Tia Juana, just a happy, rollicking hobo once more. For
as Leon put it, he hopes to enjoy the diversions of the border city to the utmost, his style uncramped
by the restrictions surrounding the acts of a monarch.

There was, perhaps, just the trace
of a tear in King Leon's left eye
as he slowly wrote and signed his abdication papers in The Register office. Naturally there would be as he looked back over a reign of nearly two years as the youngest king the hoboes ever had. But there was no hesitation in his manner. With simple dignity he wrote the following history making document:

"I, J. Leon Lazarowitz, who was formerly elected as King of the Bonifide Hoboes' Union of the U.
S. A. in Minneapolis, Hennepin county, Minn., in general assembly
at its annual hobo convention,
September 10, 1927.

"I hereby in my last official
Royal Command, nominate Denver
Mike as my successor to take immediately.

With a sigh of relief, Leon
looked at his work with a glow
of pardonable pride as he returned his favorite pencil to his pocket.
"There may be a mistake or two,"
he remarked, "but you see I have been on the road for nine years,
ever since I graduated from high school at the age of 14. You not hereby in my last official Well, that's all right. Where would the office be?"

Leon said Denver Mike was 39
years old and that he saw him last
at the convention in Buffalo, N.

basement X-ray room Wednesday morning. Removing the fireproof covering, he had found the pipe too hot to touch. He went back to his shop, leaving the pipe to cool off. Ninety minutes later he returned to find smoke in the room and steam dripping from the pipes. He seized a fire extinguisher and played it against the ceiling where the smoke and hissing steam seemed centered. Almost immediately the first explosion knocked him to the floor.

Thereupon he crawled from the room and was seeking safety when the second explosion flung him through a window.

His error, if such it might be called, lay in leaving the steam pipe unguarded.

City Fire Wardens P. F. Ferris and M. F. Gross, after studying Boggs' statement and that of Giley A. Mullineaux, chief engineer of the clinic, said they believed the heat spreading from the unprotected pipe and escaping steam had caused spontaneous combustion among rolls of x-ray film stored in the basement room. Nitrogen gas given off from the film combined with the oxygen in the air to form nitrogen dioxide gas—sure death for those who breathed it deeply.

But this gas would never have escaped from the film room to the floors above except for the error of the second steam fitter—a man as yet unidentified. Years ago this man put a steam pipe separate from the one Boggs worked on—in the wrong place. It protruded from the ceiling and prevented the automatic closing of a fire door in the film room.

This door was designed to close when a thermometer in the room registered a certain degree of heat. Had it closed Wednesday, the flames and gas would have been forced through a ventilator without harm to anyone except Boggs, who would have been trapped and killed by the explosion, Coroner Pearce believes.

The thermometer worked Wednesday forenoon when the steam hissed into the room, but the door could not close.

Blood tests by Coroner Pearce on the bodies of those persons whose skins were yellowed by the poison gas showed heavy traces of hydrocyanic and bromine acid gases. Autopsies on two bodies revealed suffocation as cause of death.

Many of those who apparently survived the fumes may be walking with death, Pearce said. He cited cases of persons, apparently out of danger, who later collapsed and died.

Paul Roquemore of East Dallas, Tex., a volunteer rescue worker, laughed Wednesday afternoon and boasted "I'm all right" after carrying many victims from the clinic. He died yesterday.

Miss Ella Moeller, stenographer, leaped from a clinic window and conspired herself on inhaling little of the gas. Later she felt ill, collapsed and died.

Dr. John Phillips, who by administering oxygen once saved the life of the late Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, walked several blocks toward his home after the explosion, and then stumbled and fell. Blood transfusion failed to save him.

Patrolman Ernest Staab carried 21 persons from the clinic and died after taking them to a nearby hospital.

he contested but it will be adopted.

The house leaders have no doubt the debenture clause will be eliminated because the conference committee stands 5 to 2 against it, although the five senators are bound temporarily at least by the action of the senate in adopting the plan.

The tariff strategy is working out equally well from the administration standpoint. The house ways and means committee has drawn a half dozen secret amendments to the pending bill which make some of the changes desired by the farm bloc. The leaders think they will draw farm bloc support to the bill.

If they do, the tariff can be passed within a week over Democratic objections.

While the big issues of the session are being decided in the house at this time, the senate is tied up in an executive session over the old question of whether presidential nominations should be considered in secret. The immediate question is the nomination of Irvin Lenroot, of Wisconsin, who has been named by President Hoover to be a member of the U. S. court of customs appeals. The senate voted yesterday 38 to 34 against considering the nomination in public, the 34 votes representing far less than the two-thirds majority necessary for an open executive session.

though the definite date of his resignation had not been decided. "It would be some time before the end of the year."

Some time ago the report was current in Sacramento that a member of Governor Young's council had been offered $50,000 a year by a large finance and investment company. At that time Heron's name was associated with the offer.

Complete reorganization of Governor Young's official family will result from bills passed by the legislature which has just adjourned, according to reports current in the capitol today.

Charles A. Whitmore, the governor's private secretary, is slated for appointment to the post of building and loan commissioner as the result of George S. Walker's resignation. Keith Carlin, executive secretary, will be moved forward to Whitmore's position, giving the governor another vacancy to fill in his own office.

Four new directorships, resulting from the creation of new state departments, must be filled by appointment at an early date. The new departments are investment, penology, military and veterans affairs, and professional and vocational standards.

COAST FURNITURE MERGER PROPOSED

BAKERSFIELD, May 17.—(UP)—Possibility of a $100,000,000 merger between furniture stores and factories on the Pacific Coast was seen here today in the announcement by three local furniture dealers that they were considering plans for entering the proposed new chain.

The merger proposal was understood to be backed by the Doernbecker Manufacturing company, Portland, Ore., one of the largest furniture making concerns on the coast.

in the fact that it is an independent bank, one of the largest in Southern California outside Los Angeles. Because of their single ownership, the savings bank and national bank are operated in harmonious co-operation, though the directorate and officers are not the same. Crookshank and Williams are the only members of the First National bank who are also on the savings bank board.

The combined capital, surplus and profits of the two banks are $1,539,660.10, the combined deposits $12,346,823.77, and the combined resources $14,580,666.55.

Members of the Crookshank family have been leaders in Santa Ana banking circles for nearly forty-five years. M. M. Crookshank was a pioneer bank president, arriving in the '80's, and A. J. and C. S. Crookshank, sons, long associated with him in the banking business, followed him. A. J. Crookshank as president of the First National, which position he retains.

The savings bank's new head was county clerk of this county for many years before he went into the First National as cashier in 1917, which position has given him an outstanding position in the county in relation to credits, loan values and activity in all kinds of banking contacts.

the starboard engine in an effort to push the dirigible into calmer air currents.

Towards the close of an anxious day, the dirigible drifted over Toulon and maneuvered to the airport. Soldiers hurried to the field to reinforce the ground crew and the volunteers from nearby factories.

The Zeppelin was walked across the field directly to the hangar without any attempt to tie her to the moorist mast. Dr. Eckener, leaning out of the control cabin, directed the movement of the ship.

The landing of the Zeppelin was effected without accident to those aboard or damage to the airship.

The Zeppelin company, as soon as the ship was safely landed, asked the French government for permission to rush five motors by automobile from Germany to replace the disabled ones. The French government immediately agreed.

The Zeppelin's owners telegraphed to the French air ministry: "Thanks for your kindness and your wonderful services and aid during hours of anxiety."

The new motors probably will be installed here by Zeppelin experts within a week or 10 days and the airship flown back to Friedrichshafen.

Her passengers will be transported by train to Paris, Berlin, Friedrichshafen or other points they might desire to go.

Zachary Taylor was president of the United States only 18 months.

ANAHEIM, May 17.—Between 25 and 30 members of city councils of Orange county met in the Anaheim city hall last night in response to an invitation issued by Mayor L. E. Miller.

But a venture of faith can inspire a man to do the best of his ability. It is the power of devotion that means may divert him for or serve as a temporary but more powerful than the command of any other required to bestow devotion and strength sufficient to enlighten the desire, and verve to the will, of one heart has been broken. It is the power of devotion that every soul experience victory over or would preclude development, his largest and his deepest joy. Give His guiding voice, expose part to His loving touch. His strength, and you find your true self in triumph.

PARENTS VIEW JULIA LATHROP STUDENT WORK

Hundreds of parents of pupils in the Julia Lathrop junior high school viewed the results of their children's handiwork last night at the annual exhibition in the school. Classrooms were gay with flowers, many of which had been raised by the pupils. Punch was served in the main hall, the refreshing drinks being drawn from a "moss covered" well with a windlass.

The principal of the school, A. H. Nelson, and the teaching staff acted as a reception committee. One of the most interesting places for many proved to be the shops, where electric toasters and other electrical appliances, articles moulded from metal, hammered work and wood work were exhibited. Surf boards, boats, model airplanes and bows and arrows were shown, as well as sewing cabinets, cedar chests, breadboards, benches and many other articles.

Modern methods of determining the future occupation of boys and girls were strikingly illustrated in the room devoted to vocational art. These are classes in charge of Miss Hazel Thrasher and Miss Florence Kline. Over 118 occupations for men were shown by illustrations cut from magazines. History classes had prepared

"peepholes" with historical scenes. Books displaying great care and ingenuity in their preparation were displayed in all the rooms. The work of the Lathrop "chefs" attracted much attention, the class being composed of boys whose frosted cakes and cookies looked most attractive.

A program was presented by the boys' and girls' play clubs. Spanish and German playlets, an arithmetic contest, a debate and folk dances also were featured. In the morning clubs of the school put on a program and the low eight boys' aviation club staged a model airplane contest. Winners in the contest were Jack Livsey, John Rabe and Dale Smith.

leged to have stolen an automobile from B. Richards on May 10. His arraignment was continued to 1:30 p. m.

Three traffic cases came up for trial before Judge Talbot, in city court yesterday, all on the count of overtime parking. One of the defendants, whose name was given to the court as Miss Blank, was fined $1 for overstaying the time limit in a 10-minute parking zone. Miss George Volck and the Shaver Music company were the other two defendants and each was assessed a fine of $2.

Lucy Mollie, 65, of 1122 Santee street, Los Angeles, was brought to the jail yesterday by Officer Elliott, of Laguna Beach, to be held for investigation.

Two men were brought to jail yesterday afternoon by Officers Mills and Garner, of Fullerton, to start serving sentences meted out to them in the Fullerton court yesterday. G. Villa, on a charge of reckless driving, started serving a term of 75 days in lieu of a fine of $75. While Arthur Hammons went in on two counts, 25 days or $50 for possession of intoxicating liquor and 12 1/2 days or $25 for intoxication. Villa, 34, is a laborer from Atwood. The prisoners were brought to jail by State Traffic Officers Dan Adams and F. C. Yoder.

The romantic lure of the wide open spaces evidently pulled too strong, yesterday, on Robert Kittle, 10-year-old Los Angeles boy, for he was reported by the Los Angeles police department to Sheriff Sam Jernigan as having left his home, mounted on a horse, with Arizona believed to be his destination. The report stated that when last seen, the young adventurer was headed toward Corona.

R. Hennigar, 611 East Sixth street, Long Beach, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday that an unknown boy was slightly injured when a truck ran into the car driven by Hennigar about a half mile west of Westminster at 4:15 yesterday afternoon.

PHYSICIAN IS EXONERATED IN MAN'S DEATH

The $76,150 damage suit launched against Dr. Emory C. Day by Jesse F. Gerber, of Laguna Beach, as a result of the death of the late Charles J. Gerber, in 1927, ended late yesterday when Superior Judge E. J. Marks granted a motion for non-suit, made by counsel for Dr. Day. The case was the second to be in court here as a result of Gerber's death. The first ended in a like manner. According to the complaint, Dr. Day treated Gerber for an injury, the latter dying from lockjaw shortly afterward. The complaint stated that Dr. Day had been negligent in not administering antitoxin to prevent tetanus.

The motion for non-suit was granted after it had been shown that Gerber had refused to carry out Dr. Day's instructions in this respect. He sent Day for a prescription for antitoxin at one time and Day is said to have come back without it.

G. K. Scovel, Santa Ana attorney, represented Dr. Day, while Mrs. Gerber was represented by counsel including Nelson and Burns, also of Santa Ana.

husband, Bert Berry, of one brother, John Woern, Angeles; three sisters, M. O. Calkins, of Santa Ana, Charles Mitchell, of Gard, and Mrs. Henry Black, Garden Grove.

VIQUE SPEECH ARS SUCCESS F INTERVIEW

AN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Ar-
of His Eminence Tai Hsu,
of the Buddhist temple of Lin
See, near Hankow, caused re-considerable difficulty.

was known the abbot had
to America on a mission and he had a message. An at-
-in fact a series of at-
-were made to discover
but difficulties arose.

Hsu did not speak English
the reporters knew not a word Chinese. An interpreter was led upon by the news men,
e manager of the hotel where
abbot was stopping was called.
was an affable Chinese, but listening to a few words
the abbot he called a bell
All Chinese bell boys are in-
-ters.

Handly the boy tried to un-
-and the abbot, but the ex-
-on his face told the in-
-ted spectators he was un-
-ul.
m sorry," he said, "but this

party speaks a unique language.
E. Tang, who runs the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and who has to be able to make booster
talks in various Chinese dialects, was called. His efforts also were unavailing.

His Eminence was willing and eager to be interviewed, but it seems his particular vintage of Chinese is peculiar to precincts of the Lin Yin See temple and useful nowhere else.

Finally the abbot recalled he had a prepared sheet of typewritten paper. He proudly displayed it.
It bore the information in En-
-lish that the abbot was in this country in the interests of peace
and that he was certain everyone else should get behind the move-ment.

The paper, however, failed to ex-plain what organization had sent
His Eminence on such a com-mendable journey or why it had selected a propagandist who spoke
only archaic Chinese.

Possibly the author of the mis-
-sive also belonged to the many who cannot understand the temple
dialect and had no way of find-ing out the abbot's ambition and
-nection.

HOOPS, MY DEAR, HERE ARE SCHOOL QUEENS

It was field day at Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass., and the seniors and undergraduates had many a time-honored custom to observe. ### White? Not these clothes!

THERE was plenty of soap. The clothes were scrubbed thoroughly,
and rinsed. But the water was hard.
The soap mixed with the hard water,
and formed a dirty ring around the basin—scum! The scum got into the fabric of the clothes. That's why the clothes weren't clean.

But they can be clean. How? By washing them in soft water. And how can hard water be made soft?
By adding Melo. The water is now a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap; and the soap much more ef-fective. Get a can today at your grocer's.

HELEN KELLER ENJOYS RADIO

Helen Keller "listens" to her radio with her sensitive finger tips.

Broadcasting Robs Blind- ness of Bitterest Sting, Says Noted Woman

Radio has robbed blindness of its bitterest sting, declares Helen Keller, famous blind student and lecturer, whose own triumph over her triple affliction of being able neither to see, hear nor speak is one of the modern marvels of individual accomplishment.

In a letter to A. Atwater Kent, of Philadelphia, expressing appreciation of Kent's co-operation with the American Foundation for the Blind, in providing 250 electric radio sets for distribution to blind shut-ins, Miss Keller wrote:

"May your reward be in the thought that, through you, blindness has lost one of its bitterest stings—long, long hours of brooding and the heart of sorrow has been lightened and consoled by magical sounds from the world's brimming orchestra."

Although Miss Keller has learned to talk—thanks to her own persistence and ingenuity—she is still deaf as well as blind. But no radio listener gets more pleasure or keener delight out of a musical program than does she. Just as she is able to understand what a person is saying by placing her fingers on the larynx of the speaker—her sensitive fingers translating the sound vibrations accurately into words—just so is she able to get the rhythm and harmonies of radio music by placing her finger tips on the vibrating edge of the loud-speaker.

In the study of her home in Forest Hills, Long Island, Miss Keller has an electric console set and "listening-in" is one of her favorite diversions. Just as she writes her own articles and letters on her own typewriter, she prefers to operate her radio herself. "I think few people realize," she says, "how limited the pleasures of the poor are; and when the poor are also blind the monotony is terrible indeed. "All the blind love radio. I think of the radio as a wonderful voice from the outside world which binds closer together those who see and those who cannot see—as a messenger of sympathy and aid, a consolator of the lonely, an enlarger of the common life, a carrier of news and knowledge, a scatterer of sunshine."

ceived today by C. F. Millen from his wife.

Mrs. Millen declared that Oakland had been turned over to the aged veterans and nothing was too good for them. Entertainment attractions in the city are free to them and for their parade,
held Wednesday, the residents
turned out en masse to accord them every honor. Yesterday the same hospitality was shown by Berkeley, when that city was host to the "Boys in Blue."

MOTHERS' DAY OBSERVED BY LEGION WOMEN

Honors appropriate to Mother's day last night were accorded the mothers of American Legion auxiliary members at a covered dish
dinner complimenting them in American Legion hall.

An interesting program was presented as a sequel to the early evening ceremonial, at which three
new members were initiated, Mrs.
Grace Reid, Mrs. Hull and Mrs.
Jessie Johnson. Initiation was conducted by members of the Torrance drill team, becomingly costumed in white uniforms with blue-lined capes, bearing the name
"Torrance," and completed by little white berets with the auxiliary symbol on each.

Mrs. Marion Matthews was in charge of the program and introduced Robert White as one of the popular soloists. His numbers
"Invictus," "The Surf Song" and
"Yesterday and Today," were received with much enthusiasm. The Musical Trio of talented young sisters played several selections varying from solo and duo to tri-
numbers, and were recalled for en-cores.

"Mother My Dear" was beautifully sung by Cecil Fross Willits,
director of the Auxiliary Glee club
as a special compliment to the assembled mothers, and the Glee club
completed the program with two numbers, "Silver Threads Among
the Gold" and "Gypsy Love Song," sung with the charm and vividness
characteristic of this splendid musical organization.

A striking feature of the evening was the reading of a group of essays on "Making Santa Ana
a Clean City," submitted by pupils of the Mexican schools of Grand Avenue, Delhi and Artesia
in a contest inaugurated by Mrs.
Irene Daniger, chairman of the auxiliary's scholarship and school award committee. A reward of $5
will be made in each school, with the principal of each to cast the deciding vote after selection of outstanding essays was made last night.

Future events of interest to the members were announced as including Santa Ana day, on June 1, at the Valencia Orange show,
when the Santa Ana auxiliary will have charge of the booth where articles made by disabled veterans will be on sale. Each unit of the county council will have a day in turn.

Poppy day, on May 29, will call
many of the members into service
to sell the memorial blossoms on the city streets. It was stated that 4000 flowers will be placed on sale, and the usual co-operation is expected from the townspeople.

Saturday night, May 25, was announced as the date for the next dance to be given by the Glee club. This will be open to the public and all proceeds will be added to the fund which is being raised to send the organization to the national convention.

Petition To Ask Court To Take Up Convicts' Appeal

SACRAMENTO, May 17.—(UP)—
A petition asking the state supreme court to reconsider its recent decision in denying the appeal of five Folsom prison convicts under death sentence for participation in the Thanksgiving day riots of 1927 was being prepared here today by Attorney J.
J. Henderson.

Henderson said he had not yet assembled the specific points on which he will set forth his petition but indicated that he will ask for reconsideration on general
grounds, including those specified in the original appeal, in which he contended that the evidence adduced in the convicts' trial was insufficient to justify the capital punishment verdict.

TRAINING MEN AS DOMESTICS PAINS PIONEER

By RICHARD G. BALDWIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The unemployment situation in San Francisco has played havoc with the "stronger sex" in the opinion of the city's old-timers who remember at least a few of the days of '49 and when North Beach was the world's toughest community.

The old-timers' views were aired in a typically old-time manner, after announcement that the Associated Charities of San Francisco had started a school to train men to do housework.

"It just don't seem reasonable," was the comment of one of the old guard, "that the male folk should have to scrub floors and run them ding-fangled sweepers in order to make a livin'."

"Now I remember when—" and here the gray-haired veteran launched into a graphic story of the time when "men were men" and San Francisco was the "wide-open" city of the world.

However, officials of the Associated Charities can see no reason why men should not be trained to do domestic work.

"Men are better fitted to do heavy housework than women," one of the officials explained.

"Why, they can wax floors, operate vacuum cleaners, wash windows and woodwork, run washing machines and do innumerable things."

Under direction of the officials, seven men were chosen to take the first course and after an intensive series of lessons in the art of housework, were graduated with honors.

The men studied housecleaning, use of modern appliances, manners of taking care of floors, and were taken into the finishing department and taught the polishing, touching up and cleaning of furniture.

Then followed 10 days' practical experience in homes and, according to the officials, the ability of the men "was simply marvelous."

Should San Francisco take to the idea of employing men for household work, it is planned to enlarge the school and to add additional courses, such as laundering and gardening.

CLAIMS FAT CHEFS CAN'T TASTE WELL

LONDON, May 17.—(UP)—Women may have forsaken the "stream-line" figure for plumper lines, but chefs still must preserve their slenderness.

So says M. Latry, one of London's leading chefs, who thinks that fat chefs are more likely to lose their sense of taste and general sensitivity than thin ones.

Consequently M. Latry has informed his staff that they must "diet or quit." In addition he has formed two rowing crews from among the younger members of his staff, and has himself presented them with a boat, which, incidentally, was the one in which Oxford university lost the annual varsity boat race three years ago.

Here's What Well Garbed Man Wears At His Operation

WOODLAND, Calif., May 17.—(UP)—Ah Sing, local 70-year-old Chinese, had never been in a hospital before and had a most profound terror for the surgeon's knife.

When he was stricken with appendicitis recently, his friends rushed him to the Woodland Clinic hospital here. Ah Sing was assigned to a room and his friends followed him. When the nurse arrived in the room she found Sing in bed surrounded by his friends. A quick look disclosed the fact that Sing still had his overcoat on.

But imagine her astonishment when she found that in addition he also was wearing four shirts, two pairs of trousers, five pairs of socks, and three suits of underwear. Sing's friends admitted that he had pleaded with them to fully clothe him so that the white man's knife would "not hurt."

Your Kitchen Experience warns against making Too Much

MAYONNAISE at Once

The experience of Hills Bros in roasting coffee proves that bulk-roasting methods can never approach their patented, continuous process of roasting a few pounds at a time

MAYONNAISE may separate when you make too much at a time. It gets out of your control. Coffee roasts unevenly if the quantity is too large. Some is overdone—some underdone.

Hills Bros. roast every coffee berry evenly because only a few pounds at a time pass through their roasters. This is Hills Bros.' exclusive, continuous process that controls the flavor of every pound. No bulk-roasted coffee can ever taste like Hills Bros.

All the appetizing aroma and full-bodied flavor produced by Controlled Roasting, comes to you intact because Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum tins.

Ask for Hills. Coffee by name and be sure to look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on every can.

MISSION PLAY AUTHOR SPEAKS J. C. FIESTA

California—the happiest land in the world—was the theme of the play, "The Mission Play," which was presented by John Steven McGroarty at the address of this morning, to an assembled young people of the Santa Ana Junior college, celebrating their annual Spanish fiesta on the campus, and in developing theme, the noted writer, playwright, poet and philosopher painted a word picture of the former of his beloved state that his hearers, young and old, deriving in a joyous dream through California's rose and gold—yesterdays.

There was no inspiration lacking in the spirited scene on the stage, where dark-eyed maidens in colorful flounces and lace-trimmed dresses, and handsome young caballeros in red trousers, silken sashes and brimmed sombreros. Nor other picturesque details lacking for among the crowd were used the intrepid matadors and lions of a true fiesta feature, bull fight, to say nothing of the vil-visaged pirate just in from the Spanish main.

Teachers Brightly Clad
Members of the faculty were as brilliantly clad as the stars, the whole scene reflecting a spirit of carnival in honor of crowning of two of the most famous young people of the study as Don and Dona of annual fiesta. These were Miss Margaret Clonoff and Baxter King, the former lovely in white and lace and with garnet jewelry repeating the sparkle of dark eyes, and the latter in some caballero costume.

Father St. John O'Sullivan, of the Mission San Juan Capistrano, was delegated the honor of giving La Senorita Margherita al Senor Don Baxter with jets of blossoms, following his duction by James Roach, master of ceremonies. In his address in conjunction with the ceremony, Father O'Sullivan spoke of ancient history of this part of California, stressing the importance of pioneers and work other than Father Serra his padre who founded the missions. He spoke particularly of Don Luis Ortega and the recently dedicated Ortega highway.

A charming bit of old Spain was introduced by Miss Faustina Lucero in one of her most graceful dances, with Miss Ruth Frothingham at the piano.

Dean D. K. Hammond was presented, and in a gracious little talk, introduced John Steven McGroarty, whose love for California and her history is known to everyone. In fancy Mr. McGroarty led his hearers back to that gracious era when California and hospitality were synonymous, pictured the two weeks' festivals connected with every wedding, and painted a delightful picture of kindred hospitalities.

Didn't Need Money
"They had everything in the world but money," he declared. "But they didn't need money, for they had everything that money could buy." He then painted a word picture of a visit to Don Antonio Maria Lugo, whose acres reached from Arrowhead mountain to the sea at Santa Monica, describing the friendly spirit that had everyone encountered on the journey, to turn and accompany him to the home, until what was begun as a dinner for one guest resolved itself into a many days' visit of a score of guests.

"They worshipped happiness while we worship that thing called progress," he declared. "But in all our progress, California itself remains unchanged. They can't change the flowers, the sunshine, the scenery—it is still California—the happiest land in all the world."

In closing, the speaker quoted his own beautiful poem, "Just California," with its lovely allusion to the state lying "Where the hand of God has flung it down the center of the world."

To add the final touch of beauty to a memorable program, Madame Manuela V. Rudrow, Santa Ana's famed "Spanish Nightingale," sang two appropriate numbers, "Cellita" and "Estrellita," with Miss Ruth Armstrong as her accompanist.

Thief Divides Up
LOOT WITH VICTIM

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17. — (UP)—Kind heartedness of a robber mixed with the oratory of Herman Krieger reflected satisfactorily upon the latter's creditors.

Krieger told police a man came into his house, drew a pistol and forced him to give up $85. He said he pleaded with the man not to take all the money because he had to meet some bills.

"All right, guy," the robber answered, "we'll split it."

The robber counted out $42.50 and gave it back to Krieger.

The next day the creditors got their money.

TWO COUNTIES IN FIGHT FOR TAXES

BELLEVILLE, Ill., May 17.—(UP)—Frank Bowman of East St. Louis wants to pay his taxes but he'd like to know to whom they ought to be paid.

Bowman owns a small parcel of land which used to be an island in the Okew river, which forms the boundary between St. Claire and Monroe counties.

Bowman used to pay his taxes to St. Claire. Then the river changed its course, and Bowman found his land was now a peninsula on the other side of the river, in Monroe county.

Monroe and St. Claire counties have both filed claims for taxes amounting to approximately $700. The St. Claire county court will make a decision when tax adjustment claims are heard here in May.

PILOT IN STUNTS AT DARING SPEED

LONDON, May 17.—Air experts here are marvelling at the achievement of Flying-Officer R. L. R. Atcherley, one of the pilots training for the Schneider Trophy race. He has looped the loop while flying at a speed of 300 miles an hour.

Atcherley used a racing seaplane similar to those entered for this year's trophy race, and he was taking part in training with the high-speed section of the royal air force.

These racing seaplanes require some skilful handling, and such a delicate touch on the controls that very few pilots are capable of controlling them in level flight. "Stunting" has not hitherto been considered possible.

At a speed of 300 miles an hour the pilot has great difficulty in judging his position. In turning at this speed the centrifugal force is so great that pilots have been rendered temporarily unconscious by the flow of blood from the head.

HEOPS AS MASON WOULD FLOP TODAY

CHICAGO, May 17.—A small piece of mortar from the pyramid Khufu, estimated to be 6000 years old and built by the Egyptian king, heops, was recently brought here for testing by the laboratories of the Portland Cement association. The composition of the piece was found to be a weak, easily decomposed mortar made up largely of pure alabaster.

In the dry, hot climate of North Africa, where this pyramid has stood for thousands of years, this piece of composition withstood the vagaries of time. However, the association reports that if erected in climate similar to that of the United States, it would have decomposed in a short time. All kinds of mortars and cements have been tested in these laboratories. Just recently they analyzed concrete from the Arch of Titus in Rome.

They say it was just a blind when the American league magnates met in Cleveland and announced that the valuable player prize had been abolished. . . . And that the real purpose of the meeting was to consider means of "getting" Judge Landis. . . . And that E. S. Barnard, president of the league is to keep his players from an open rebellion against the commissioner. . . . The Washington players "jockey" their new kid pitcher by calling him Liskavitz. . . . Deal, an Alabama football player, has six inches of skin peeled from his thigh and grafted on his back. So his shoulder could be loosened. . . . Bob Jones says that British golf was set back six years because of the war. . . . And that the big golfers over there are just getting back. . . . ### THOUGHT HE WAS DEAD

Five or six years ago it was the frequent duty of sport writers to inform their public that some disabled ball player or fighter had gone to Youngstown to be cured by the celebrated "Bonesetter" Reese. Many of them went to him and in recent years there has been scant mention, if any, of the sport pages about the miracle man of muscle and bone. Ball players and fighters began going to other specialists.

Early in the spring in St. Petersburg, Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, was asked why he didn't send Herb Pennock and his lame arm to "Bonesetter" Reese for treatment. "Reese?" he replied. "Why, he's dead, isn't he?"

ATHLETES WON'T OBEY

The Bonesetter is not dead. Recently he celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday and he did what he seldom has done before. He submitted to an interview. He said that he had retired from the spotlight in the athletic world because he didn't care to continue treating athletes. "They expect too much of you, especially ball players," quoted him, he said. "I have treated hundreds of ball players and admonished them to stay out of the game for a week or so and rest the injured member. Then the next day or two I would pick up the paper and see their names in the box score. Of course when the disability returned they didn't blame themselves for the failure of the treatments and they would come back."

"I had another reason, too, for getting out of the athletic field of work. It attracted too much publicity to me and it led clients to feel that I should guarantee a sure cure. I have enough work to keep me busy without treating ball players. Many times I have appointments two weeks ahead. I don't work on Saturdays and my clients necessarily must be limited."

HAVE TO FOOL HIM

His friends say that he will not give an appointment to an athlete and those who do get to him for treatment have to do it by a ruse. They tell a story about Chick Lang, one of America's greatest jockeys. Lang had been almost totally disabled with wrist trouble. There were lumps about the size of a quarter on each wrist and he couldn't hold the reins. He went to Youngstown and was shocked to learn that Reese wouldn't treat an athlete.

He went to one of the Bonesetter's friends who promised to get him an appointment but he told him not to dare mention that he was a jockey and to say that he fell down stairs and hurt his wrists. Reese looked at the lumps, then grabbed hold of the wrists and gave them a sudden twist. Lang said the pain took him to the floor.

"Weeping sines, you had," Reese told him. "Caused by turning the wrists when they were under a strain."

HOSTS OF TURF WORLD GATHER IN LOUISVILLE FOR KENTUCKY DERBY; FAVOR BLUE LARKSPUR

BY FRANK GETTY

United Press Staff Correspondent

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17.—The shrill whistling of steamboats calling for anchorage through the early morning haze on the Ohio, the day-long rumble of arriving special trains and the swirl and jumble of traffic through the picturesque old streets of Louisville told today of the coming of the hosts of the turf world—owners, breeders, bookies, touts, and just plain folks who love a horse race—for the fifty-fifty running of the classic Kentucky Derby.

In the bars and barber shops, along the streets and through the crowded lobbies, and out a little ways from town in the broad, hospitable homes of the blue grass country, the talk was all of tomorrow's renewal of the greatest of all American turf classics.

Folk from Memphis and St. Louis who came up on the river boats had their favorites, as did the smartly attired groups in special cars from New York and Chicago and as did the Kentucky mountaineers down from the hills to bet their shirts on Col. E. R. Bradley's Blue Larkspur, the home-bred favorite.

For a few thrilling moments tomorrow the heart of the turf world will race to the tempo of drumming hoofs, and then a new successor to the long line of equine champions will be crowned with all the honor Kentucky showers on the victor in the sport she loves best.

For those few minutes, the millionaires and the rail birds will be on equal terms while they root the winner home.

PAUL CONVERTS STULL'S SCORE, BEATS SENIORS

A perfect dropkick from the toe of Captain Norman Paul determined the result of the final interclass football game at Santa Ana high school yesterday as the juniors triumphed over the seniors, 7 to 6, and clinched the championship.

With the score 6 to 0 against them, the middleclassmen tied the score and made the deciding point to annex the title. Both touchdowns were spectacular, being made on forward passes and long runs. The seniors could have won the game and scored several times but lacked the punch to put the ball over. No less than three times, the graduates got as far as the 20-yard line.

The seniors defeated the sophomores, 12 to 6, last week to advance into the final round. Both teams yesterday had a good offensive punch with Wayne ("Galloping") Garlock and Paul furnishing the fireworks. In fact, both of these two boys threw a pass which netted a touchdown. Garlock's to Kerr who ran 50 yards to score while Paul's was to Stull, who also traversed 50 yards. The last was close, the ball being over by inches. Buxton's try for goal for the seniors was blocked.

Garlock started the game with two 20-yard runs but an intercepted pass stopped the senior rush. For the rest of half, both teams searowed up and down with thrills aplenty. The seniors scored soon after the new half started. The juniors came right back and collected their lone tally a few plays later, after which neither team could score again.

On the senior team, Garlock easily was the star. Buxton also played well, as did Kerr, Goodrich, Clayton, Weichlein and Edwards in the line. For the juniors, Paul was outstanding. Doyle Gilbert played safely like a veteran. Harmon Howard and Gb Meisinger were other backs who did well. In the line, Stull, Morris, Thornhill, Higashi and Martin were brilliant.

TELEPHONE COMPANY Buries TITLE MEN

The Santa Ana Twilight league's most one-sided baseball game was history today, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company having buried the Orange County Title company under a 26 to 10 score in the bowl yesterday. This was the Pole-Climbers' second straight win in the late afternoon circuit.

It was a ball game for three innings but the Pacific got to Fluor for six runs in the fourth, four in the fifth, four more in the sixth and clinched it all with an eleven run slaughter in the seventh. Tatum, Curtis, Adams, Wadell and B. Underwood all hit safely three times. The score:

Sonnenberg Gets Offer From Daro

BOSTON, May 17.—"Dynamite" Sonnenberg, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, said today he was seriously considering a $100,000 offer of Promoter Lou Daro for a title bout against Ed "Strangler" Lewis in Los Angeles, in July.

National Broadcasting company and the Columbia Broadcasting system have made elaborate arrangements to describe the racing classic. The NBC will go on the air with the race at 4:30 p. m., central standard time. The Columbia chain will be hooked up a half hour earlier.

Dempsey To Ask Million If He Fights

NEW YORK, May 17.—The phantom bidding for Jack Dempsey's services as a fighter, has started again and the former heavyweight champion will be ready to talk business when the mythical promoters get the ante up to $1,000,000.

In answer to two copyrighted stories in New York newspapers that he will return to the ring this fall, Dempsey said: "I might consider an offer to fight again if the purse were large enough and the opponent suitable."

CITY LEAGUERS BEGIN RACE ON MONDAY, JUNE 3

City league competition, always one of the most popular parts of night baseball, will begin in Santa Ana the evening of Monday, June 3 and will continue through eleven consecutive weeks, according to a decision reached by the Commission of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association today.

The defending champions, the Santa Ana Ice company, will have the honor of opening the season. They are scheduled to play the Barr Lumber company on the first night.

Games will be played every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, sandwiched in between Orange County league and other contests booked for the Santa Ana Stars. This will guarantee fans from three to five exhibitions here each week.

The City league season will be a split one and the winner of the first half will play the champion of the second half for the title in a two-out-of-three post-season series. If the same club wins both halves, the team that has the next highest percentage for the entire season will have the right to participate in the championship series.

An important meeting of all City league managers will be held in the city council chambers of the city hall promptly at 6:15 p. m. Monday, May 20. Although it will be a brief confab, the commission has sent out word that it will be imperative for each team to be represented. Eligibility lists also must be filed Monday.

The commission has appointed Sid Allender and Frank Cory as official City league umpires for the summer.

The complete City league schedule follows:

Weeks Beginning June 3 and July 15

U.S. Tennis Team Leads Canadians

MONTREAL, May 17.—Needing only one more victory to advance to the second round of the American Zone Davis cup competition, the United States doubles team of John Hennessey and John Van Ryn met the Canadian team of Dr. Jack Wright and Dr. Art Ham at the Mount Royal Tennis club here today.

The United States won both singles matches yesterday. Van Ryn defeating Willard Crocker, 9-7, 6-2, 6-3, and Hennessey beating Wright, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5.

THE CLOWN IS SERIOUS NOW

Charley Grimm, musician, magician, tap dancer, is just a baseball player now. He is the first baseman of the Chicago Cubs and has forgotten his clowning to help win the National league pennant for the Bruins. They call Grimm the finest fielding first sack guardian since Hal Chase.

CHAVEZ, RIVERS BOTH ON LOCAL FIGHT PROGRAM

Zenaydo Chavez and Jimmie Rivers, local fistic idols, will headline the Orange County Athletic club's boxing show next Wednesday night, not as opponents but as main event and semi-windup participants, respectively.

In what probably will be the last match he will engage in before facing the veteran Johnny Adams at Wilmington June 5, Chavez has agreed to meet Cliff Hottinger, of Santa Monica, for the Santa Ana club.

Rivers, a much improved boxer since he got down to his natural fighting weight, will go against Bert Sampson, Los Angeles welterweight who made his first appearance here a winning one against Manuel Victoria last Wednesday.

Hottinger is now a "hot" number at San Bernardino and Ocean Park where within the last three weeks he has defeated Milford Burglund and Oscar Rankin, the red-headed colored fellow who recently stopped Bobby Bridges here.

Bobby Bridges, who first headlined a show here and the next time out appeared in a curtain-raiser, will box the feature preliminary. He is to face Bobby Balke, of whom little or nothing is known. The rest of the card follows:

Tony Moreno vs. "Chalky" Wright, 122 pounds.
Howard Johnston vs. "Babe" Jackson, 160 pounds.
George La Voie vs. Young Molino, 120 pounds.
Johnston, the local middleweight who is to fight Jackson, is scheduled to box the semi-windup spot at the Main Street Athletic club in Los Angeles tomorrow night.

SALO GAINS IN DERBY
SWEETWATER, Tex., May 17.—Johnny Salo, Passaic, N. J., policeman, cut 11 minutes and 30 seconds from the lead of Pete Gavuzzi, England, when he won yesterday's 62-mile lap of C. C. Pyle's transcontinental footrace in 7:35:40. It was Salo's second consecutive victory, after he had tied with Gavuzzi for five previous laps.

Condition Of Fouled Boxer Is Critical

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 17.—Armando Santiago, Cuban bantam, is in a serious condition here suffering from a low blow struck by Herman Perlick, Kalamazoo, Mich., during their scheduled 10-round bout last night.

Perlick felled Santiago in the eighth round with a right which the judges declared struck below the belt. Santiago was carried unconscious from the ring and doctors who attended him said today his condition was critical.

FEUD BETWEEN CARDS, TROJANS TO FLARE ANEW

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—The ancient track feud between Stanford and the University of Southern California will flare up here tomorrow at the annual intercollegiate meet with California and University of California on hand to snatch points from the Cards and Trojans whenever possible.

The Trojan's chances hinge largely on the injured right leg of Charley Borah, the sprint star. If Borah is able to sail through the 100 and 220 yard dashes in good shape, he will assure his team of 10 good points from the start.

Borah has given his leg several tests lately and the results were not satisfactory although the athlete is training daily. He will decide before his events tomorrow whether to run.

Stanford is conceded a landslide of points in the field events. Jesse Mortensen of U. S. C. and Emory Curlice and Kenneth Churchill of California are strong javelin throwers who might contest the Stanford fold in this event.

Warren Woodruff of Southern California and "Red" Mossman of California are unbeaten in the two-mile run this year. Mossman is the favorite, having traveled the distance in 9:36, considerably faster than Woodruff's best time.

BOWL CAPACITY MAY BE TESTED AS RIVALS MEET

Perhaps the largest crowd the ever squeezed its way into Santa Ana's night baseball home will descend into the Sixth and Olive street Bowl tonight for the first of three meetings this summer between Santa Ana and Anaheim perennial contenders for the championship of the Orange County league.

Attendance at pre-season contests here has been better than ever before. Close to 3000 fans gathered at Anaheim last week when the Colonists opened the league season against Huntington Beach and, always loyal to the colors, many of the Anaheim followers will flock to the tussle here.

Local officials expect a "house" despite the cool weather and the earliness of the campaign.

Horace Snow, field boss of undefeated Santa Anans who are defending champions of the Orange County league as well as of Southern California, announced definitely today that Marion ("Zus") Ochoa, once a member of the Anaheim pitching staff, would step on the ridge for the Stars. Ochoa will be ready for emergency and may work the four innings anyway. "Zus" W. Cox will catch.

"Big Bill" Cole and Wayne Nelson, two of the Santa Ana regulars, may not be able to play tonight. If Cole is there he will be at first base with Bill Foote, second, Darwin Scott at third and "Memphy" Hill at short. If Cole is absent, George Preble will be switched to the initial sack.

Orville Schuchardt will be center field but he is the outfielder sure to start. Nelson or Randolph Bell will be in field with "Rosy" Merrill or P. ble in right.

The game will begin at 8 o'clock. The tariff will be a dime. It is understood that Sid All

MISS COLLETT WINS BRITISH PUTTING TITLE

ANDREWS, Scotland, May 17.—The erratic putter which she performed in orthodox style line holes of play, cost Miss Collett her chance to become the first American ever to win the British women's golf title. Collett was beaten in the match of the tournament by Joyce Wethered of Great Britain today, 3 and 1.

Collett was defeated by a 10-foot putt on the 18th hole, a disappointment not only for her but for her fellow countrymen who had hoped she would win the elusive title back with her due almost entirely to the performance of her putter.

Collett's club performed as designed to do, Miss Collett was equal of Miss Wethered in the match during the first nine holes, but she was out of the match when she failed to sink a putt on the 10th hole. Collett's putt was 10 feet from the hole.

Collett's first nine holes of play were consistent and the result at Miss Collett's 3 and 1 was a greatest round ever played by a woman on the old St. Andrews course and led her opponent by five holes.

The incoming nine of the round, however, the erratic changed its mind and Miss Collett with a 41, lost three of the nine holes.

WILLARD IS 5 TO 1 WINNER OVER GROVE

BY BOB SPURGEON
Still smarting from Tuesday's defeat, the Frances Willard junior high school Braves trounced Garden Grove high school's second team, 5 to 1, yesterday. "Toy" Blower, Willard's peerless pitcher, shifted back to the mound after playing at shortstop, and turned in his best game of the season. He allowed only two hits.

The Indians scored twice in the first when Chavez hit safely, went to second on an overthrow, and third on Meyer's neat sacrifice. Sanchez got a walk and later scored. Frances Willard also scored in the third.

on the defensive that kept him with the Pittsburgh Pirates when his hitting wasn't the size of his hat. But in recent years he has become a hitter. He hasn't led the league or anything like that, but he is respected by all the opposing pitchers as a dangerous batter in a pinch.

Early in his career Grimm was light-hearted and gay. He was a clown and he didn't take his baseball seriously. It has been said that he and Rabbit Maraville laughed the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National league pennant in 1924, and Barney Dreyfuss, the Pirate chief, sent him on to the Cubs.

Grimm is still somewhat of a clown on the ball field, but he has learned when to do his clowning. Off the field he is the life of the club family. He has a $400 banjo and he can play it. He also plays the harmonica, the trombone, the mandolin, the guitar, the piano and the xylophone. He is a swell tenor singer in a quartet and an amateur magician of ability. He carries a magician's outfit around with him and can pull rabbits out of a hat or eggs from under the lapel of your coat. He talks German fluently and knows all the German folk songs and dances. And he can tear off a wicked soft shoe tap dance. And during the winter he makes toys in his home for the kids.

Some of the modern hat styles were in vogue 400 years ago in England.

WRIGLEY THREATENS TO CLOSE L. A. PARK

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Desire of William Wrigley, the Chicago gum magnate, to permit women free entrance to Wrigley field in Los Angeles during 1930 may prove a serious setback to Pacific Coast league baseball.

BUFFALO GANGSTERS HELD

Five murders and fifty robberies since 1925 are said by police to be included in the confession of "Big Korney," also known as John Kwiatkowski, reputed leader of a gang of Buffalo, N. Y. criminals and now held for complicity in an armored car holdup staged in Greenwich Village, New York, in April. "Big Korney" was implicated by Anthony Kalkiewicz, his chief lieutenant, in the New York robbery. The picture shows, left to right: "Big Korney," Detective Chief John Reville and Police Commissioner James Higgins of Buffalo and Kalkiewicz.

ROOSTER KIDNAPS 38 CHICKS FROM HENS, DETERMINED TO RAISE THEM TO OWN LIKING

"Cluck-cluck-cluck!" scolds a Black Minorca rooster out at the home of Mrs. Ida B. Burke, 1326 Logan street. "Cluck-cluck-cluck!" Now you children run right here to daddy and keep away from those cats and dogs or you'll get hurt!"

Now don't say that a rooster—a dignified Black Minorca—would never say "cluck" like an old hen and call a flock of downy yellow chicks together beneath its paternal bosom. For if you do, you will be mistaken—you haven't seen Mrs. Burke's rooster. But her neighbors have and the little children who share her home have, and it is one of the joys of their young hearts to see the solicitous manner in which the rooster looks after his family, having assumed full control of a brood of 38 after having wrestled the chicks from two nice biddies who claimed prior parental rights.

Perhaps there is something in the atmosphere of Mrs. Burke's little home that induces a protective spirit, for that home shelters a number of small children who otherwise would be thrown out on a cold and cheerless world. They are little people whose parents are not, perhaps, or who have been left, perhaps, with only a mother who must work all day long for enough to keep the flickering flame of a life burning, or a rather to whom the care of a little child is a problem which he doesn't know how to solve without the aid of such motherly individuals as the Mrs. Burkes of this world.

And that protective spirit which seems to brood over the unassuming little home seems to have had a strange expression in the Black Minorca rooster. In addition to her home duties, Mrs. Burke raises quite a number of fowls, rabbits and such aids to a proper nourishment of her young charges. So a short time ago, when two of her hens came off the nest with broods of baby chicks, it was to be expected that they would fulfill the duties and obligations of self-respecting mother hens. But the Minorca rooster held different opinions. His first interest in the fluffy yellow infants was shown when he began to scratch for lus-

K-B WILL OPEN SANTORASTORE ON TOMORROW

Said to be the finest establishment of its kind in Southern California, the new K-B Drug company store, in the recently completed Santora Land company building, at Second and Broadway, will open tomorrow. It is the third store in the group operated by the K-B drug organization.

Perfection in design and uniqueness of equipment are outstanding features of the store, which carries out the Spanish style in its architecture and which residents of Santa Ana and Orange county have been invited by Frank Koss, president, to inspect.

William E. Almas, who has been with the K-B store on North Main street for over a year and who came to Santa Ana from the Owl Drug company, in Los Angeles, will be in active charge of the new establishment. Almas had been in the drug business in Vancouver for 20 years before coming to Southern California.

Gilmour Assistant E. P. Gilmour, who formerly was with the Mateer drug store, will be assistant in the new K-B store. Frank Campbell, well known in Santa Ana as a soda fountain man, will direct fountain operations in the Second and Broadway store. Campbell has been in Los Angeles for a number of years.

The fountain, back bar and all its accessories are of most modern design and in this are typical of the equipment in the rest of the store. Chairs at the fountain are finished in red leather, with comfortable upholstered backs. Each chair swings back into position when the occupant leaves, so that the entire row presents a uniform and orderly appearance. An especially prepared niche, finished in attractively colored tile, will hold the coffee urn, while for every bit of equipment special arrangements have been made.

The wood work in the store presents an aged, mellow appearance, in keeping with the Spanish idea carried out in the store. Its surface is so finished that it will not show dust.

Show cases of special design have been installed. They are so made that the displays never need be disturbed when stock is taken from them for customers. Their finish and trimmings carry out the controlling Spanish idea with woodwork and tile. At the floor the cases are rimmed with tile, in the same pattern which is followed out around the floor throughout the store. The tile finish on the fountain front is of a pleasing pattern, worked out especially for the new store.

In National Association The K-B Drug company is affiliated with the National Drug Druggists' association and also will feature Owl Drug company products, following out a policy in use at the North Main street store and the store operated in Buena Park.

Max Factor, of Hollywood, will have a cosmetician in the new store tomorrow to demonstrate latest cosmetic methods.

In addition to Frank Koss, president, the officers of the K-B organization are E. C. D. Pettitt, secretary-treasurer; Leo Borchard, vice president; W. Lester Tubbs and Seymour Brown, directors. Koss has been in the drug business in Santa Ana for seven years. Two years ago the K-B corporation was organized and one year ago the Buena Park store was purchased. Other expansion plans probably will be made.

CAST IS READY FOR 'MACBETH' PRESENTATION

Climaxing weeks of nightly rehearsals, drama students in the Santa Ana junior college will present the Shakespearean tragedy, "Macbeth," at 8:15 tonight in the high school auditorium.

Ernest Crozier Phillips, college drama coach, is directing the annual production and is authority for the statement that the cast is one of the best fitted that he ever has trained.

Ray Lindman and Mona Summers Smith are taking the leads of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth very effectively, as do the minor characters of the play. The drama will be the concluding event of the annual Spanish Fiesta program to-day.

Modernistic stage settings enhance the production. Curtains, drapes and scenery were rented from many sources and the remainder of the sets were constructed in the college workshop. Colorful costumes also add to the production.

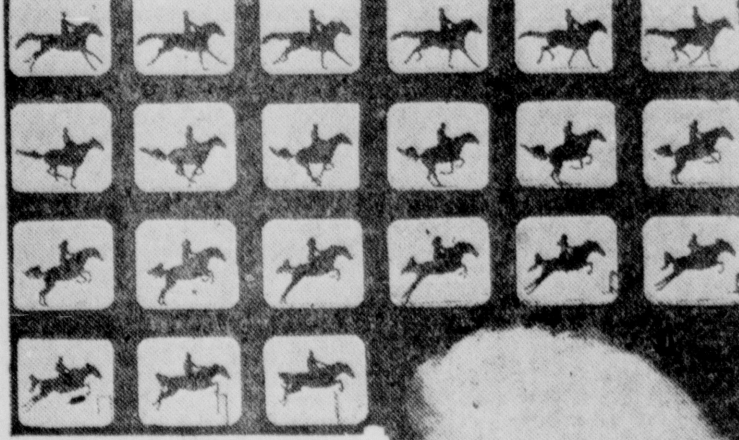

The complete cast for the play is as follows: Macbeth, Ray Lindman; Lady Macbeth, Mona Summers Smith; Duncan, King of Scotland, Neil Harlow; Malcolm and Donalbain, his sons, Arthur Gross and Minor Thompson; Banquo, general, William Jerome; Macduff, Paul Allen; Lennox, Crawford Nalle; Ross, Harlan John; Angus, Newell Vandermast; Fleance, Florence Brownridge; Seyton, Newell Vandermast and Doctor, Frank Miles.

Bleeding sergeant, Wylie Carlyle; a porter, Edwin Gerhardt; a servant, Wylie Carlyle; lords and ladies, Neil Harlow, Edwin Gerhardt, Julia Bingham, Evelyn Robb, Doris Robbins, Roberta Eley, Paul Allen and Arthur Gross; murderers, Edwin Gerhardt and Frank Miles; First Apparition, Neil Harlow; Second Apparition, Ruth Warner; Third Apparition, Roberta Eley; nurse, Roberta Eley, and gentlewomen, Doris Robbins and Julia Bingham.

The junior college orchestra of 30 pieces, directed by S. J. Muscol, will play during the program. Ten numbers, harmonizing with the various themes of the production, will be offered.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

The 50th anniversary of the making of pictures on the present movie principle was celebrated at Stanford university with placing of a plaque honoring Eadward Muybridge, who made the pictures for Gov. Leland Stanford in the '70s. A series of cameras were used, with threads across the course to trip the shutters. Some of the original "Movies" are shown above.

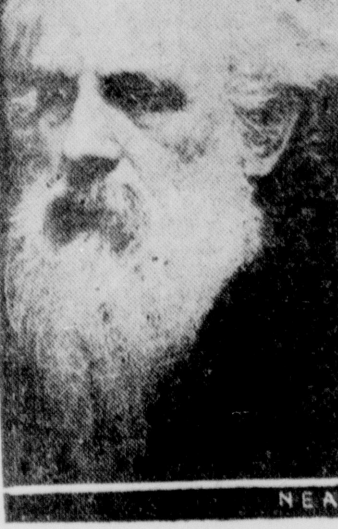

REGISTRATION FOR BOND VOTE JUNE 25 URGED

One of the first matters to consider in connection with the $16,500,000 flood bond election of June 25 is the necessity of "getting out the vote" and one of the essentials of that task is to first qualify the vote, so Orange county voters today were urged to see that they are properly registered.

Registrations for the bond election close on May 25, under the statutory requirement that a person voting at any election must have registered 30 days in advance of such election in the precinct where his vote is cast, it is announced.

Persons who have registered since Jan. 1, 1928, are eligible to vote in the flood bond election, unless the voter has moved to a new precinct since registering. It is pointed out. However, if there has been removal to a new precinct, the voter must transfer his registration to such new precinct on or before May 25. In order to vote at the bond election, Transfer of registration can be made in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

There will be no consolidation of voting precincts at the bond election of June 25, it is announced. The full quota of 174 polling places will be established, as usual, to avoid any chance of confusion among the voters. Instead of the usual personnel of six members for election boards, all such boards will be composed of only four members, the county supervisors have decided, as an economy measure.

THEY MUST LIKE IT EVING, Neb., May 17.—The school attendance records of Howard Lee, senior, and Ralph Lee, a junior in the Ewing high school, are exemplary. Howard has a perfect record, having been neither absent nor tardy during the twelve years of his school life, while Ralph has been absent but one time. That was when he was unable to enter the seventh grade until eleven days after school started because of a deep cut on his leg received from a wire while swimming.

Glorious Yellow Poppies Add Vivid Note to Luncheon

Glorious yellow poppies, poppies that have no name as they are among the last blossoms that were propagated by Luther Burbank before his death, were sent by Mrs. J. P. Hatzfeld to the Santa Ana Country club yesterday to be used in decorating for the bridge luncheon with which Mrs. Lester Carden, Mrs. John L. Tubbs and Mrs. W. A. Flood entertained.

Offering a delightful contrast to the vivid flowers were the fragile white rose buds that centered each of the 25 tables where the delicious luncheon was served. Other table appointments were in pastel tints.

Following an afternoon of cards, scores were added and those who were highest were presented with attractive luncheon sets. Those who were fortunate enough to receive the handsome gifts were Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, Mrs. Glen Moore, and Mrs. Tarver Montgomery.

The hostesses were assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. Tubbs' daughter, Mrs. John McKittrick, and by Mrs. Flood's daughter, Miss Fern Flood.

Out of town guests included Mrs. J. L. Carden, Mrs. Mae Parker Ellis, and Mrs. H. C. Davies, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Glen Moore of Rancho Santa Fe.

County Music Teachers Hold Annual Banquet At Ebell Club

Colorful, harmonious, even as the music of which they teach was the annual banquet of the Orange County Music Teachers' association that was held last night at the Santa Ana Ebell club.

Quantities of variegated flowers added a gay note to the affair as did the pretty rose bud nut cups in yellow and rose and the place cards that were at the speaker's table.

The arrangements for the banquet had been made by the Modern Poetry section of Ebell, headed by Mrs. C. F. Jackson, and members were assisted in serving by the Misses Norma Forman, Elizabeth Smith, Blanche Forman, Betty Maloney and Louise Maloney.

Olimas Enlow Matthews, president of the association, presided over the affair and she introduced L. E. Behymer of Los Angeles well known impresario, who acted as toastmaster during the evening. Mr. Behymer mentioned the fact that he had served in similar capacity at the first banquet of the Orange County Music teachers.

He introduced Mrs. F. E. Coulter, president of the Santa Ana Ebell club, who spoke briefly on the step forward that has been taken in teaching music in the public schools.

Mrs. Joseph Thurston of Laguna Beach who is president of the Music Lovers' club of that city as well as of the County Federation of Women's clubs, told of the ambition of Laguna Beach citizens to make that place the "City of Art."

Mrs. Kate McCullough, head of the Orange County School of fine arts in Anaheim, was introduced and she announced the composition contest that is to be held at the auspices of the Music Teachers' association. She stated that the contest will be divided into two sections, one for persons under 18 years and the other for those over 18 years.

She also mentioned the summer music program that is to be presented in the Greek theater at Anaheim. A program will be given every Thursday night, starting June 20.

Madame Rena Tumanova, famous Russian prima donna, was present and she also was introduced.

Artists who were on the evening's program, Vera Barstow, violinist and Arthur Hitchcock, pianist, of Whittier college, Hilda Dietz, soprano, and Franz Davis, accompanist, were presented.

The program, one of the loveliest ever given in the Ebell clubhouse, was presented in the auditorium. The first group of selections given by Miss Barstow with Mr. Hitchcock at the piano, was opening with the sparkling "Praeludium and Allegro" by Pugnani-Kreisler. The brilliance of the first number was contrasted with the exquisite legato of the slow movement from "Second Concerto" by Cecil Burchell that is so rich in coloring.

Two other Cecil Burchell selections, the delicately lovely "Fairy Sailing" and the haunting, vivid "Ghost Dance" completed the first group.

Miss Dietz' voice of silvery sweetness was heard to advantage in Mozart's joyous "Alluljah" and "Chant Indou" by Debussy, and was rendered with splendid dramatic interpretation, Eleanor Warren's "Dreams," the words for which were written by Beatrice Fenner, a Los Angeles girl, was filled with wistful entreaty. Very appropriate was Miss Dietz's last selection, "Do You Know My Garden?" by Haydn-Wood as it was offered as an encore following the presentation of a beautiful bouquet.

She is director of the First Methodist Episcopal choir of this city. Miss Dietz was accompanied by Franz Davis, head of the piano department at the Orange County School of Fine Arts, whose skillful and sympathetic playing added greatly to the charm of her songs.

Concluding the program, Miss Barstow presented "Sonata in G" by Grieg with Mr. Hitchcock at the piano. The beautiful rendition of the sonata was a fitting climax to the evening's affair.

"If girls desire new dresses for the promotion service it is perfectly all right for them to have it," Mrs. Webber said, "but it is not at all necessary as many girls are planning not to purchase new frocks for the occasion."

Mistress Mary's Garden Forms Motif for Dinner

The garden of that contrary maid, Mistress Mary, was reproduced in most delightful fashion one night recently when Miss Helen Kennedy and Mrs. Lulu Galbraith entertained with a dinner party at Ketter's cafe, honoring Miss Norma Forman whose marriage to Walter Righter of Glendale is to take place in June.

Miniature flower pots from which nodded the loveliest of May's flowers and latticed gates behind which peeped gay spring blossoms made a pretty centerpiece for the table.

Following the dinner, while tables were being arranged for cards, Miss Forman was directed to search for the wishing well that everyone knows was in the garden of Mistress Mary. When she had discovered the well she was ordered to draw a bucket of water which turned out to be a number of attractive gifts for her new home.

Bridge was enjoyed during the evening and the attractive prizes were won by Mrs. Leona Woolley and Miss Alice Grimshaw. As a special gift from teachers of the John Muir school, Miss Forman was presented with a beautiful dish.

Those enjoying the affair with Miss Kennedy and Mrs. Galbraith were Miss Forman, Miss Josephine Good, Miss Florence Hullisek, Miss Alice Grimshaw, Miss Stella Mueller, Mrs. Leona Woolley, all of the John Muir school, Miss Blanche Thompson, Miss Linda Mueller, Mrs. Julia Hullisek, and Mrs. Grimshaw.

Miss Bruner played nine solos from memory with the confidence and ability of an older performer. She chose selections for her first group from the works of Kuhlman, Beethoven and Haydn.

The second group consisted of three duets which were played with her teacher, Mrs. Wilkinson. Following these came a Schubert waltz and two lively compositions by Kreutzlin.

The "Contra Dance" by Beethoven which followed was especially pleasing as was also the duet, "Sylvia," by Delibes. "Witches" by Rogers proved to be all that the name suggests. This was followed by "Japanese Intermezzo" by Johnstone and the delightful "Balancelle" by Vachas.

For her closing number the young artist played the Brown "Fantasy on Humoresque" with Mrs. Wilkinson assisting her at the second piano.

Christian Science Lecture Delivered Here

Entitled
Christian Science: The Science of Well-Being
by
Charles I. Ohrenstein, C. S. B.
of Syracuse, New York
Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The thing most sought for by mankind is well-being. Religions, the sciences, the human learning and activities, have aimed to bring about this most desired and desirable result. Religions have looked forward to complete well-being in the millennium; philosophers and poets have pictured it in their Utopias; scholars, scientists, and statesmen have labored for its achievement, until in a material way there is little left to be desired for mankind. But do the things attained mean true well-being? That is, do they mean more abundant life, health, peace, satisfaction, and that enlightenment which rejoices in the good of all? For answer one only needs to read the daily newspapers and current periodicals; for in them one finds that even in this, the most enlightened, the happiest, most prosperous of all countries, poverty still prevails; incurable diseases still have away; crime and degradation of all kinds still stalk unabashed; war still oppresses our thought. Why? Because well-being has been looked upon as objective instead of subjective. Because it is believed to consist of what we have, rather than of what we are, inducing all to strive for great possessions, rather than for right being. And this, in spite of the teachings of Jesus, who said that life is more than meat and the body than raiment; who instructed his followers to "seek... first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you,"—meaning not that we should not have the good things for which the world has longed and labored, but that we should have them as a result of spiritual attainments,—in other words, because of what we are.

Jesus came to "give knowledge of salvation," or, as Wyclif translated the passage, the "science and health" to mankind. This means that he came to teach the science or knowledge of well-being; and well-being, in its broad sense, must include all that can be rightly desired, all that is needful for us to have.

The teachings of Christian Science are contained in their entirety in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. They reiterate and demonstrate the teachings of Jesus. This Science is preeminently the Science of well-being, and it is such because it is the Science of right thinking and of right doing, not founded upon human belief or opinion, but upon the understanding of Him whom to know, as Jesus taught, is life eternal. It is this understanding that Christian Science teaches. The chief points of this Science are: the understanding of the nature, the operation, and the law of God; the understanding of man's relation to God; the understanding of the truth which overcomes sin and its disabling, impairing, disease results, culminating in the wages of sin—death; the understanding of the true Saviour, or Christ, and of his divine office of healing, redeeming and regenerating mankind from the effects of sin by the spiritual or mental method practiced by Jesus.

GOD
Today, as never before perhaps, people are earnestly considering the nature and operation of God. In the main, opinion may now be said to be divided between the teachings of a more advanced theology which appeals with poetic beauty to the higher sentiments of men, and the teachings of the natural sciences. The first, as in the time of the prophet Ezekiel, has made of God "a very lovely son" which enraptures and entrances the human intellect, but not the God who is a "very present help in trouble." The second has made a blind chemical, or mechanistic force its God—a force ever making (evolving), remaking, and destroying all that it has made—ever grinding out of dust, ever regarding to dust—matter—its own creation. Not so did Jesus; not so does Christian Science. Jesus taught us to know God as our Father—a Father who is Spirit or Soul, and thus Mind. By the meekness, humility, and intelligence he expressed, by the divine life he lived, by the truth with which he made men free, and by the all-compassionate love which he manifested, Jesus illustrated and demonstrated that God is the only true Spirit, Soul, Mind, Truth, Life, Love,—the Love which causes its sun to shine and its rain to fall upon the just and unjust; which in resplendent beauty clothes the lily, and cares even for the sparrow's fall; which always heals and saves, but never destroys its ideas. It is this great, this almighty God, or good, that Christian Science teaches us to know; a God with whom all right things and no wrong things are possible; a God "who," according to the Psalmist, "forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thine diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies; who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's;" who "executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed."

MAN
But can we really be taught to know God so that we can do the things of which the Psalmist sang, opportunity of entire and complete the works which Jesus did?

Yes, we not only can, but must learn how to know God; for only by so doing shall we know that all these things are possible with Him, and learn to know man; for, as the Bible teaches, "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love, are not physical and cannot be physically discerned. But all who manifest their qualities show forth something of the man whom God created, the image and likeness of God. Thus, in some measure, revealing God. Jesus did this more than any one we know. For this reason he was, as he said, "the way, the truth, and the life"—the way for all to follow, the truth for all to know, the life for all to live. Only by so doing can we show forth in ever increasing degree "the only begotten Son" of God, the only true man, and know our true relationship to God.

At the present time much is being said and published about evolution. I trust that what has just been said will at least indicate that the man whom God created is not material, did not begin in slime, cell, or protoplasm, nor evolve through creature after creature until he was able to stand up and think. I trust it is plain that man created by God, whom we have seen to be Spirit or Mind, is spiritual,—the thought or idea of Mind; for Mind creates nothing but ideas. Hence, man made up of right ideas—not of matter, dust, or slime—is God's man, the man whom we must manifest. All of us, as has been said, do this to some extent; for all of us show forth, in some small way at least, something of Life and its intelligence, something of Truth and its enlightenment, and something of Love, and its protection and providence. But learning what we truly are, and so learning what our true business is, we shall manifest the Godlike qualities in greater measure, and show forth more and more of our Godlikeness.

From what has been presented it will be seen that man as created by God—the image and likeness of God—has and does only what is Godlike, just as your mirrored reflection, or image and likeness, has and does only what is like you. And just as you are all there is to your reflection, so God is all there is to man. If this is plain, then it must also be seen that God is man's Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, and Love, and that consequently the true man has, and is always actuated by, the perfect Mind, the divine Spirit or Soul, the absolute Principle, the eternal Life, the complete Truth and pure Love, all of which together constitute God. More than this, it will also be plain that just as your mirrored reflection is begotten only by you, and is always obedient to you, so God's image and likeness, the true spiritual man, is begotten only by God and is always obedient to Him. This means that God is not only the Father, but also the Mother of man, our Father-Mother God, and that man is obedient and subject to God, to infinite good, and to nothing else.

It is self-evident that none of us has reached the stature of manhood which has here been pictured, and that consequently all of us together represent only a kind of man or mankind. In this there is presented something of a hint of the progress which Christian Science enables us to make, something of the spiritual evolution which takes place in the experience of every Christian Scientist. In our dictionaries man is defined as "a primate mammal having the brain and brain-case relatively large as compared with the face, the body erect in locomotion and the great toe not opposable." Thus, every "one who is able to stand up, and has that kind of big toe, is the finished product, man. Physiologically, that is the standard, and I am sure that you will agree that many are living down to it.

You will remember that under the cover of night, Nicodemus, who was a teacher in Israel, came to Jesus to learn something of his doctrine. In answering his salutation, a salutation which was a recognition that the Master was a teacher who came from God, Jesus said, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." Then Nicodemus asked the question, "How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb?" And "Jesus answered, Verily, verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." In other words, except one be purified of all materiality, and born of Spirit, even of that Spirit or Mind which is the Mind of Christ,—an event which can be brought about only through the operation of the right ideas of that Spirit or Mind,—he cannot come under the government of God, and so cannot become subject to the complete good which God is. In other words, he cannot experience or manifest the intelligence of the divine Mind, the inspiration and blessedness of the divine Spirit, the immortality of the divine Life, the freedom of divine Truth, and the purity of divine Love, which constitute the supreme good or God of all.

No one except Jesus has attained to anything like complete manhood. On page 258 of Science and Health Mrs. Eddy has said, "We know no more of man as the true divine image and likeness, than we know of God." Let us take heart, then, for, in Bible language, "as many as are led by the Spirit of God (by the right sense of divine intelligence or Mind), they are the sons of God." All of us stand at the point of this great, this supreme opportunity; the opportunity of entire and complete perfectibility. It is this opportunity to which Christian Science awakens us; for it heals us by enlightening us, and it enlightens us by healing us. It teaches us that "now are we the sons of God," and that it is our business, every day, every hour, to be what God made man.

ANCIENT AND PRESENT BELIEFS ABOUT ILLS AND THEIR CURES

But here some may say, If God made all, and made all good, very good, as the Bible and as Christian Science teach, how is it that so many things are harmful? That so many things are sickness, produce impairments, disabilities of all kinds, and that men are subject to these things: that they grow old and die? Then, too, it might further be exclaimed, It must be admitted that other methods than that of Christian Science heal! What about them? Perhaps we may summarize all by asking, what is the cause of sickness and troubles of all kinds, and what their cure?

Anciently, illis of all kinds were attributed to demons, evil spirits, devils, and so on. Thus Jesus, as all know, is said to have cast out devils and evil spirits by his healing ministry. Literally taken, such causes for the illis of men are now looked upon as superstitions. But, really, can present beliefs as to the causes of our illis be looked upon as scientific, as based upon a true understanding of these illis? And, if not, can the generally accepted methods of healing them—the medical methods—be looked upon as scientific?

Let me illustrate. All of you remember the Greek myth of Pandora and her box. According to this myth, Jupiter, desiring to punish Prometheus for bestowing light or fire upon mankind, prevailed upon the gods to fashion a beautiful woman and to send her to Prometheus. But Prometheus, knowing that nothing good would come to him from the gods, refused to accept her, cautioning his brother, Epimetheus, to do likewise. However, Epimetheus, unable to resist, accepted her. Their union was a most happy one; but soon, Mercury, Jupiter's messenger, came and left with them a huge box, intricately bound with cord. With feminine curiosity, Pandora immediately speculated as to the contents of the box, and, not heeding Epimetheus' warnings, untied it during his absence. Frightened by Epimetheus' unexpected return, she dropped the box, which immediately opened. Now, Jupiter had malignantly crammed the box with little brown-winged creatures, the germs of all the sorrows, vices, crimes, diseases, and calamities that afflict poor humanity, which, escaping, alighted on Pandora herself, on Epimetheus, and on all the people, stinging and infecting them most unmercifully. This, it may be said, is the original germ theory. It is hoary with age—a mere superstition, a myth. Yet, there is much food for thought in it. For today, aside from the poetic appeal of the tale, is not the medical theory as to the cause of illis the same? Is not almost every ill of mankind now attributed to germs of some kind?

TRUTH ABOUT ILLS AND THEIR CURE

Jesus, indeed, cast out devils, evils. But these devils were bad beliefs,—beliefs contrary to the truth or reality of God and God's creation, including man which He pronounced, in His wisdom, like Himself, not only good, but very good. In other words, these devils, or evils, were deviations in thought, word, and deed, from divine or right being which is God; for, as the Psalmist said, "I will behold thy face in righteousness;" meaning that God is discernible in what is right. Jesus had no superstition about the devil, the personification of all illis. Most simply and plainly, he called him "a liar, and the father of it;"—the source of all lies. A lie is a deviation from truth or reality; and if you will look in your dictionary you will find that this is just exactly what sin is: for sin is defined as "a deviation in thought, word, or deed, whether by omission or commission, from the law of God." And the law of God most certainly is the righteousness of His creation, and decrees that man shall know and deport himself as God made him.

It was deviation from right or true being, from God and from Godlikeness, which tormented, diseased, and disabled the people of Jesus' time. It is the same kind of deviation—the same wrong, false, lying beliefs, or devils, that do so now; for all such deviation are sins, and the wages of sin are sickness, disabilities, impairments, calamities, death.

THE ONLY SAVIOUR AND HEALER

Who or what, then, shall save us from the mass of wrong beliefs which we still entertain; upon which all of us still act? To use Paul's words,—"Who shall deliver me from the body of this death," that is, from the mass of death-dealing beliefs or sins which beset us? The Christ!

In the Old Testament we are told that "he," meaning God, "sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions." In speaking of the word of God, Jesus said, "Thy word is truth," and in speaking of himself as the Christ, he said, "I am the truth," and again, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." According to these statements, Christ is Truth, a fact which makes plain another saying of Jesus,—the saying, "I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." Accepted, as it has been, that Jesus in his human personality is with us always, this saying has been childish. But taken in its true sense, the sense which has been indicated, that as Christ or Truth he is with us always, it is beautiful, true, practical, and helpful.

Truth must, does, consist of right ideas. Right ideas about God, about man, and about being, correct and nullify every wrong, false, mistaken belief about them. They correct every belief that in any way deviates from God and man's Godlikeness. It is in this way that Christian Science heals. Thus, in Christian Science, it is never any man, any woman, or any thing that does the healing; but it is always Christ or Truth that does it, and Christ heals sickness and illis of all kinds by destroying the false beliefs or sins which the illis are the results. It is the ever-present, ever-available Christ, or Truth, that does all the beneficent works of Christian Science; healeth all diseases, forgiveth all sins by enabling us to see them as frauds and impostures upon us, thus making us willing, nay, glad to abandon them.

PRAYER

The Bible enjoins us to "pray without ceasing." The practice of Christian Science is such prayer. When Jesus' disciples asked him to teach them to pray, he cautioned them against public or audible prayer, against word-worship, and supplication, telling them not to be like the heathen who think that they shall be heard for their much speaking,—adding, "for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him." He then illustrated his meaning in a prayer which has since been called the Lord's Prayer, and which, as Mrs. Eddy states in Science and Health, page 16, "covers all human needs." According to a recent translation, this prayer does not consist of supplications, but of declarations,—the declarations that God's name (that which shows forth God—His character or nature) "must be hallowed;" that God's kingdom (government) "must be restored;" that God's "will must be done both in heaven and upon the earth."

A good many years ago the Chancellor of one of our universities—a clergyman of many years' experience—asked me how we pray in our churches. I told him that at every service we have silent prayer, followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer, and that this is our only audible prayer. After a few moments of silent thought, this well-known clergyman and scholar said, "Mr. Ohrenstein, I have been a minister of the Gospel for forty-five years, and were it possible for me to live my career over again, I should never make any audible prayer except the Lord's Prayer."

According to the Gospel of Mark, Jesus said, "Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them." In the Revised Version a note to this text indicates that the Greek word translated into the English word receive, really means received. Correctly translated, therefore, the text in the Revised Version should read, "All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, believe that ye received them, and ye shall have them." It is this prayer of understanding that when God made man in His image and likeness, man received all that is Godlike, all that is good, and only that which is good; that man received all that it is possible for God to give and for man to receive or desire,—it is this prayer that is the basis of all Christian Science practice and of all true prayer. It is in such prayer,—prayer which necessarily declares that by the image of God—man—God's name or character must be and is being hallowed, God's kingdom or government must be and is being restored, God's will must be and is being done, and that this is so, irrespective of any and all mere appearances,—it is in such prayer that the Master's instructions and commands are being followed and obeyed in Christian Science. It is such prayer that has brought health, and joy, and peace to thousands upon thousands of people by lifting up their thoughts in prayer to God and to what man really is; by encouraging them to be and enabling them to be what God made man, and to fulfill the demands of God upon them.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TEXTBOOK
Quite probably there are those here who are in need of the help of Christian Science, but who do not know enough about it to decide about entrusting themselves to it, because they have not investigated or studied it sufficiently. This they can best do by procuring a copy of the Christian Science textbook, which has already been mentioned. This book presents the entire doctrine of Christian Science, and many have been healed by the study of it without the aid of practitioners. My own wife was healed in this way when the best medical skill we were able to secure had failed, and at the time when her condition seemed quite hopeless. More than this, she has ever since been able to live in a locality where it was claimed by the doctors she could not possibly live. Nor are such healings strange. You will remember that it has been stated that "he," meaning God, "sent his word, and healed them;" indeed that no other agency than the word, or truth, of God does the healing in Christian Science. It is this word of God that is presented to us in the Christian Science textbook, and the thousands of healings which have followed the study of it are an attestation of this fact. In this connection, in her book, "No and Yes," page 3, Mrs. Eddy has said, "People dependent on the rules of this practice for their healing... will put that book (Science and Health) in the hands of their patients, whom it will heal, and recommend it to their students, whom it would enlighten." You may be told, or you may be tempted to believe that there are books by other writers which will enable you to understand Christian Science more easily than does this book. Do not believe it. In my practice of this Science, of over a quarter of a century, I have never known one person, understanding the English language, who was unable to understand any sentence I have read to him from Science and Health. A professor of English in one of our universities—one who is not a Christian Scientist—in speaking to his class about the chapter on "Prayer," with which the book opens, said that it was one of the simplest and most beautiful pieces of prose in our literature, and if Mrs. Eddy had written nothing else, that alone would place her among our best writers. The difficulty is not that people do not understand what Mrs. Eddy has written; it is that what she has written does not agree with what they have been believing, and they are unable to reconcile the one with the other. In this regard, they should remind themselves, that according to Jesus, they should know the truth, and the truth would make them free. Consequently, if they are not free from fear, anxiety, sin, sorrow, sickness, want, or any other ill, then what they believe is not the truth. This alone should make them not only willing, but glad to abandon the beliefs which they have been entertaining—no matter how cherished—and to accept the new, the right ideas, presented to them. For, in Bible language, you cannot "put new wine into old bottles," unless you empty the bottles. In this book, Science and Health, is presented to us what is needful to comfort, to encourage, to heal us, and every Christian Scientist is learning to turn to its pages with an expectancy and assurance of receiving the help he needs. For myself, I can truly say in the words of one of our hymns,

"I look to Thee in every need,
And never look in vain."

modest, and so retiring was Mrs. Eddy that after she had proved her doctrine, taught it to others, published it, so that all could avail themselves of it and be benefited by it,—after she had hedged it about so as to preserve it for all time in its purity,—although continuing to direct the great movement she had founded,—she withdrew herself from the world to meditate and commune with God. She never stooped except to lift some fallen brother, or some fallen sister. In her humility, meekness, purity, and righteousness taught in the Beatitudes were exemplified, personified. No words could more fittingly apply to her than those of the wise king in Proverbs,—
"She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness."
Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates."

PARKING PROBLEM

LAGUNA BEACH, May 17.—The problems connected with parking in the business district, particularly on Coast boulevard, and the probable advantages and disadvantages of establishing local speakers along the beach as a means of public entertainment consumed much of the council's time Wednesday evening.

When the city ordinance was considered it was found that this city was the only one in the state permitting limits on parking to two hours between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., but without restrictions on Sundays and holidays. After considerable discussion the matter was finally referred to the city attorney to draft an amendment which should stipulate that the maximum period of parking should be limited to an hour and a half, between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., and that this should apply on all days. It was pointed out that Sundays and holidays are the most important days in this city from a business standpoint on the boulevard. Merchants on Forest avenue were not represented, as most of their places are closed during much of the day on Sundays and holidays.

Leaving here they were to spend a few days in Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo and expected to reach their home in San Francisco Saturday. One evening of their stay in the Giesler home a few friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler, Miss Lucille Giesler, Harold Giesler, Miss Rachel Lamb and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall surprised them by coming in for a card party which Mrs. Tom Giesler had arranged. # THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Goofygoon said, "My, you're kind, and I don't think I'll ever find a way to thank you for the things that you have done for me. I'm sorry that I ran away and took your bread. 'Twas just in play. I'm sure that, after this, I'll be as good as I can be."

Then Clowny said, "I know that you are sorry for bad things you do. It's just that you are fond of tricks. I used to be that way. But folks misunderstand your pranks and never think to give you thanks for being rather funny. They don't realize it's play."

"Now, go ahead and eat your meal. When you are through I know you'll feel much better. Food is always fine to make a person strong. I fear that if the others knew that I was out here feeding you, they'd think that I was easy, and was doing very wrong."

"They'll wake up with the morning breeze, so hurry with your eating, please." The Goofygoon ate fast and very shortly said, "I'm through." Wee Clowny watched him, with a smile and said, "Sit down and rest awhile. I'll have to leave you now, 'cause there are things that I must do."

When Clowny reached the bunch again, he shouted very loud, and then they all woke up with quite a start. Cried Clowny, "It is noon! Hop up and exercise a bit, and soon you will be feeling fit. You all have slept so soundly that right now, you look forlorn."

Just then they heard a noise nearby, and Scouty jumped and shouted, "My! The Goofygoon is acting up. Perhaps it's 'cause he's tied." The funny bird had tried to fly, and as he flapped up toward the sky, he jerked the baker's house, and flopped it on its side.

(The Tinymites fix the house in the next story.)
